HICKLIN TALKS FOR PLUMB

He Persists in Trying to Push Through a Contract for Baker Fabric Fire Hose.

Chief Dougherty's Appointments of Firemen Rejected and Eighteen Others Approved-The Street-Railroad Ordinance.

DOINGS OF COUNCIL.

Hicklin Again Steps to the Front in Favor of Plumb's Baker Fabric Hose.

The Common Council spent nearly an hour last night in again discussing the firehose question. At a previous meeting the city clerk was ordered to write for bids from manufacturers of hose, and last night several were reported. One from the Gutta Percha Rubber Hose Company, that manufactures the Baker fabric, quoted four-ply house, warranted to stand 400 pounds' pressure to the square inch, at 90 cents a foot, while another from the Eureka Fire Hose Company offered hose, two and one-half inches in diameter, at the same price. Councilman Cooper moved at once to refer the bids to the fire committee, but Councilman Hicklin objected. "I am not in favor of the reference," said the latter, "because the Eureka company, which offers us hose at 90 cents to-night, has sold the same quality to other cities for 80 cents. In other words, the Eureka is offering its hose at 90 cents, with 10 per cent. off for cash."

"I wish you would cite an instance," said Councilman Cooper, "where that company offered to take 10 per cent. less for its hose," "Don't you know. Mr. Cooper, that it has been done?" asked Mr. Hicklin.

"No, sir, I do not?" Mr. Cooper responded.

"Have you never heard of it?"

"I have not."

"There is no use to repeat the discussions we have had on this question," interrupted Councilman Trusler. "I am in favor of referring the bids to a special committee."
"I would like to ask Mr. Trusler," said Mr. Hicklin, "if he does not know it to be a fact that the Eureka company is selli this same hose at 80 cents a foot? And if such is true, I would like to ask him if he does not believe this Council would do the right thing in rejecting its bid?"

"If the Eureka company is selling hose for 80 cents which it offers to us at 90, I do not think we ought to consider its bid," replied Mr. Trusler. "Don't you believe it is?" asked Mr.

"I only have your word for it," replied Mr. Trusler. "You make statements here without furnishing data or a single figure. I want something definite before I am con-"Let me say," said Councilman Olsen,

"Oh, sit down," interrupted Mr. Hicklin, as he made a sweeping gesture very near Mr. Olsen's face; "I'm not through yet. The Republicans insist that the Eureka company is a marvel of honesty, and that it would never offer us hose for 10 cents more on the foot than it is worth. I should like to have Mr. Gauss read some evidence he has there.

Councilman Gauss, who had been waiting for an opportunity to speak, proceeded to unfold a four-page daily paper, printed at Natchez, Miss., containing a report of the proceedings of the Council of that place. The article stated that the Eureka company had offered hose to the Natchez Council at 10 per cent. off. That was what you wanted, was it not,

Mr. Cooper?" asked Mr. Hicklin. "Ne, sir, it was not," replied Mr. Cooper. "If you will show me a single instance where the Eureka company offers to take 10 per cent. less for the same quality of hose as that offered by the Baker fabric company then I will yield."

Councilman Pearson insisted that the discussion was out of order inasmuch as the Council was only considering the reference of bids to the proper committee. Mr. Hicklin read a letter from the city clerk at Natchez addressed to agent Plumb, of the Baker fabric company, which supported the article read by Mr. Gauss. Mr. Trusler then took the floor. "Mr. Hicklin's argument," he said, "is very ingenious and he will probably have the support of the majority here in reject-ing the Eureka bid. But I want to tell him that the trouble is not with the company. but with him. I refer to his action in awarding a contract before the bids were opened. The Baker fabric agent meets Mr. Hicklin on the street and induced him to here is superior to the Eureka, and he signs the contract, as he says himself, sim-ply because Mr. Hicklin did. That was all they knew about the hose question. Mr. Hicklin's record on hose has been made, and it will stick to him, I venture to say, for twenty years to come. Now he comes before this Council and tries to vindicate

Councilman Woollen thought the matter ought to be referred to the fire committee, and a motion to that effect prevailed, after the Trusler motion for reference to a special committee had been tabled

The Fire Department. The majority of the committee on fire department reported unfavorably on the appointments made by Fire Chief Dougherty nearly three months ago. In regard to the appointment of George H. Holderman as superintendant of fire-alarm telegraph, the majority, Hicklin and Olsen, asked that the matter be deferred and that further time be granted. As to the twelve men that were appointed to service by the Chief, Hicklin and Olsen recommended that they be not confirmed and that in their place the following appointments be made: Dennis Fleming, Andrew Schau, Orville Duncan, Edward Kent, Jeremiah Shea, Patrick O'Brien, Porter Dinnin, Wade Ripley, John Sullivan, Isaac Rosengarten, Thomas Arnold, Timothy Noland, Andrew Schaub, Patrick Kealing, Mark Bresnan, David Buckley, James Campbell, John Powers and John Sheridan. The report was approved by a party vote.

The Council, at its last meeting, ordered Chief Dougherty to purchase no more supplies without an order from the Council and Board of Aldermen, and also passed resolutions prohibiting tiremen from doing outside work of any kind. The Board refused to concur in both measures, and last night the Council decided to abide by its former action in regard to the supply question. Some time was spent in discussing the Central Labor Union's petition, Councilman Nolan insisting that a fireman is employed to fight fires and nothing else. Councilmen Woollen, Pearson, Cooper and others were opposed to the men doing outside work, except such as did not interfere with their regular duties and as would be of benefit to the city. No action was taken on the matter.

Street-Railroad Ordinance.

Councilman Yontz, chairman of the committee on railroads, introduced a substitute for the ordinance that was prepared by the Commercial Club and the Board of Trade in regard to the street-railroad question. According to its terms the company's franchise is to be extended until Jan. 1, 1917, with a per cent. of its annual gross earnings to be paid to the city for the benefit of the public park fund. From Jan. 1, 1901, uutil Jan. 1, 1906, the ordinance provides for the payment of 2 per cent.; from Jan. 1, 1906, autil Jan. 1, 1911, 3 per cent., and from Jan. 1, 1911, until Jan. 1, 1917, 4 per cent. A complete transfer system is provided for within the city limits, the company being compelled to share all street improvements along the route of its tracks and the maximum speed of all rapid-transit cars being fixed at twelve miles ar. hour.

Protests against the extension of franchise were read from the Socialistic Section, the Central Labor Union, Single-tax League and the Nationalist Club. The ordinance was placed on its first reading.

The Viaduct Matter. A communication from Mr. Ramsey, of the Union Railway Company, which presented the viaduct matter from the latter's stand-point, was read and received. It was

Having been informed of the resolution of Council ordering the street commissioner to re-move certain tracks at South Meridian street. I wish to call your attention to the position of the Union Railway Company regarding that street licenses and the viaduet. This company is ready to begin work on the viaduct at once, provided the question of closing Meridian street is settled by the Supreme Court, to which an appeal has been taken by the property-owners; but if the street cannot be closed, a viaduct between South Meridian and Pennsylvania street would be worthless. If the city will select some other street—Pennsylvania, Delaware or Virginia avenue—in lieu of Meridian, we will willingly put the viaduct there as soon as the damage can be settled. The railroad company has not been sitting idly by while the city has been passing resolutions, but, on the contrary, it has been, and is now, working on a plan which, if successful, will be of more general benefit to the city than this viaduct can possibly be. It is, of course, impossible for me (for business reasons) to say just what those plans are, but we are in to say just what those plans are, but we are in hopes that they will be completed inside of sixty days. We would, therefore, ask that you stay proceedings as to the removal of tracks for at least that period of time; or the railway company will pay to the city the amount the viaduct would cost the railway company, provided the city will accept that in lieu of the viaduct, and as consideration of the contract between the city and the railway company. Councilman Youtz moved to grant the request of the company, but the vote was a tie. Mayor Sullivan decided it in the affirmative. "If we can get a viaduct on Virginia avenue," he said in explaining his vote, "that is the place for it. I believe this communication means that such a settlement is possible, and a delay of sixty days will not matter either way." Miscellaneous Business.

A report from the committee on contracts was the cause of an appeal from Mayor Sullivan's decision by a Republican member. Councilmen Austin and Olsen, members of the committee, submitted a majority report recommending the construction of a brick sewer along East street from Morris to Downey, but Councilman Stechhan sent in a minority report, recommending that the ordinance be not passed. Councilman Markey moved to tay it on the table and the roll was catled. In explaining his vote Mr. Stechhan said that he was opposed to constructing a sewer which would cost $15,-000, and for which the property-owners paid no share of the expense. Mr. Trusler raised a point of order, claiming that Mr. Stechhan had no right to explain his vote on a motion to lay on the plain his vote on a motion to lay on the table, because the chair had refused to let him [Mr. Trusler] speak under similar circumstances several weeks ago. Mayor Sullivan refused to entertain his point of order, and Mr. Trusler sent a written appeal to his decision by the following vote: Yeas-Austin, Burns, Cooper, Coy, Gauss, Hicklin, Markey, Martindale, Murphy, McGill, Nolan, Olsen, Pearson, Rassman, Sherer, Stechhan, Sweetland, Weber, Woollen, Yontz—20; nays—Davis, Dunn, Myers. Trusler—4. Mr. Stechhan's report was then tabled, Mr. Woollen voting in the negative, and the majority report was adopted.

But little routine business was transacted. The Council decided to attend the Decoration-day ceremonies in a body, and Conncilmen Yontz and Martindale were appointed a committee on arrangements. The finance committee recommended an appropriation of $200 for the improvement of the Blind Asylum park, which was concurred in. Edward Cavanaugh was appointed park policeman. The offer of Mrs. Jennie T. Layman, of $10,000 for the city's property on Pennsylvania street, just north of Ohio, which was included in the Tomlinson estate, was accepted. The Council then adjourned to meet next Monday night in special session.

Selected for Fire Service.

The eighteen men who were recommended to positions in the fire department by the Democrats represent a combination of vocations that is at once varied and somewhat peculiar for the line of work pro-posed for the men named. Nine of them are day laborers, two bartenders, one a saloon-keeper, one a brakeman and one a cigar-maker, while three of them do not appear in the city directory as residents of struction and Inspection. It was the intention of City Attorney Taylor to introduce an ordinance in Council last night providing for several important changes in the matter of the erection and inspection of buildings within the city limits. Under the present system all permits are issued by the city clerk, but it is proposed in the new ordinance that all persons contemplating building shall first apply to the Board of Public Improvements for a permit and shall submit to it a full and complete description of the buildsign the contract. Mr. Olsen next finds in ings to be put up. The fire chief and the his scientific books that the Baker fabric board are to have full power to inspect all board are to have full power to inspect all buildings now standing or in process of

In regard to details of construction several important conditions are proposed All four-story business buildings that are more than one hundred feet deep shall have the inclosing walls (supporting joists) twenty-four inches thick for basement, seventeen inches for first and second stories, and twelve inches for third and fourth stories. If less than one hundred feet deep the walls of the basement shall be twenty inches, first and se seventeen inches, third and fourth stories twelve inches. All five-story business buildings that are more than one hundred feet deep, shall have the inclos-ing and division walls (supporting joists) twenty-eight inches thick for basement story, twenty - one inches thick for first story, seventeen inches for second and third, and twelve inches for fourth and fifth stories. Front and rear walls for five-story business buildings shall be twenty-eight inches thick for basement, twenty-one inches for first story, seventeen inches for second and third stories, and twelve inches for fourth and fifth stories. Similar walls for four-story business buildings shall be twentyfour inches for basement, seventeen inches for first and second stories, and twelve inches for third and fourth stories. For three-story business buildings similar walls shall be eighteen inches thick for basement, seventeen inches for first story, twelve inches for second and third stories. For two-story business buildings similar walls shall be eighteen inches in basement, twelve inches in first and second stories; provided, that any front or rear wall supporting girders shall be increased four inches in thickness by two feet, forming but-tresses or pilasters directly under such gird-

The height of stories for all given thicknesses of walls must not exceed eleven feet in the clear for the basement, eighteen feet for the first story, fifteen for the second and fourteen for the third, fourth and fifth stories. For a violation of these provisions a fine of $100 is to be imposed.

Monday night. A Lodge without a Charter.

The Independent Sons and Daughters of Honor, an insurance order of colored people, is having trouble with a lodge that is led by Mrs. Eliza Thornton, who came here from Louisville a year ago. She was, it is said, the presiding officer of a lodge in that city, and sympathized with another organization which was expelled by the national order for insubordination. When Mrs. Thornton came here she organized a lodge, prefering to follow that course to seeking admission to either of the two local Daughters of Honor lodges. She pro-poses to apply to the expelled Kentucky organization for a charter. Her lodge was reported to the State officers of the order, but failing to effect anything with them the case was referred to the national officers. They ordered the lodge published

The State Board of Education was in session last evening, all the members being in attendance excepting Governor Hovey. Reports were received on visitations to the following high-schools: Jeffersonville, Seymour, Brownstown, Spencer, Michigan City. LaPorte, Auburn, Huntington, Remington, Noblesville, Princeton, Vevay, Vincennes, Winamac and Mount Vernon. The reports indicated that the high-schools at these points were in excellent condition. A number of other subjects were discussed in-formally, after which the board adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning. At that time the question of grading the manuscripts of applicants for State, life and professional licenses will come up for discussion and

LOCAL BASE-BALL,

Two League Games to Be Played Here by New York and Cleveland.

Indianapolis is going to have League base-ball after all—that is a small dose of it. Two of the games scheduled for Cleveland, between the New Yorks and the Tom Loftus aggregation, are to be transferred to this city so that it cannot be said the Hoosier capital was altogether slighted. The games will be played here early in July, upon the occasion of the first visit West of the Eastern clubs, and the real reason for the transfer seems to be to avoid a conflct with race dates. Henry Boyle is taking an active interest in the arrangement, and expects to be able to go into the box for one of the games, while Rusie will pitch the other. Boyle will remain here a short time, and if his arm does not improve will go to Mount Clemens, Mich., for relief. The New York and Cleveland clubs will make money by the transfer of the two games, as the attendance is sure to be large.

Base-Ball Notes. Muncie will release its "phenomenal" pitcher, Gallager. His arm has given out. Harry Smith was canvassing yesterday for stock for a Western players' league team here.

EVENTS OF THE TURF. Riley Again Proves His Worth by Capturing

the Clark Stakes at Lonisville. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 19.—The fifth day of the Louisville spring meeting was a repetition of the Derby day, a constant pour-down of rain, making the track a sea of mud and the time poor. The most important event on the programme was the Clark stakes, and only three horses faced the starter. A good track would have brought out all the Derby candidates except Prince Fonso, who was shipped to Chicago last Saturday to win the rich Derby prize there. The attendance was very good, considering the weather. First Race—McCampbell handicap, sweep-stake; all ages; $400 added; one mile and seventy yards. To a good start J. B. Freed jumped in the lead. Passing the stand the order was J. B. Freed, Polemus second, and the others close up. Freed maintained the lead to the back stretch, where Newcastle made his run, coming in winner by a length and a half; Polemus second, Pellmell third. Time, 1:5212.

Second Race—Selling: purse, $400; for two-year-olds; five furlongs. To a straggling start Katuna showed first, Ora second, Black Knight third. Rounding into the stretch the order was Katuna, Ora and Consolation. Katuna won after a fighting finish; Ora second, Consolation third.

Third Race—Clark stakes; for three-year-olds; one and one-fourth mile. Passing the stand Robespierre was first by half a length; Letcher second, Riley one-half a length back. At the half Robespierre was still first by half a length; Letcher and Riley neck-and-neck. At the three-quarters Riley forged ahead by a length; Robespierre second and Riley whipping. From this on Riley galloped in as he pleased, winning easily; Robespierre, being severely punished, landed second, two lengths away, Letcher third. Time, 2:164.

Fourth Race—Selling; purse $400; weights; for all ages; one mile. After the third attempt Nina Archer got off first, Eugenia second, Liederkranz third. At the half Crawfish was first by half a length, G. W. second. In the stretch G. W. took the lead and won easily by two lengths; Liederstand Robespierre was first by half :

and won easily by two lengths; Lieder-kranz two lengths in front of Ed Hopper, Queen Victoria and McCullough last. Time

Fifth Race—Purse $400; for two-year-olds; four and a half furlongs. Pennyroyal pulled away after entering the stretch, but was close pressed to the finish, beating Running-brook only half a length, Sanford third, by a length. Time, 1:0214.

Results at Gravesend Park. GRAVESEND, May 19 .- This was the fourth day of the spring meeting and for the first time the track was in good shape. It had dried out well since Saturday and was quite fast. The feature of the card was the Seaside stakes for two-year-olds, and it furnished a good contest. First Race-One mile. Her Highness won handily by a length and a half, while Adamant beat Tulla Blackburn two lengths for the place. Time-1:4312. Second Race-Handicap sweepstakes of $25 each, or $5 if declared, with $1,000 added; one mile. Strideaway won by a length from Madstone, who beat King Crab by half a length for the place. Time—1:42.

Third Race—The Seaside stakes; for two-year-olds; $50 each, with $1,250 added; five furlongs. Chatham, ridden by Littlefield, and Terrifier, with Garrison in the saddle, were first and second choice, respectively, and at the end they had the finish to themselves. Garrsion, by the hardest kind of ridding, managed to squeeze Terrifier past the post first by a head, and thus the Morris stable ran one, two. The rest were strung out. Time, 1:0219.

Fourth Race—A sweepstakes of $20 each for two-year-olds, with $1,000 added; five furlongs. Eclipse won by half a length, while Russell beat Lord Harry a like distance. Time, 1:0234. Fifth Race—A sweepstakes of $20 each, with $750 added; one mile. In a driving finish Quesal won by half a length, while Monmonth beat Long Branch ten lengths for the place. Time, 1:4312. Sixth Race—Heavy-weight handicap sweepstakes of $20 each, or $5 if declared, with $1,000 added; six furlongs. Kenwood won by a neck from Tanner, who beat Kasson two lengths for second place. Time, 1:1512.

Calebrated Criminal Case Recalled. BALTIMORE, May 19.—Mrs. Ellen G. Wharton, formerly a resident of Baltimore, died at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Moore Wharton, near Philadelphia, aged about seventy years. Mrs. Wharton may be remembered from her connection with the celebrated cases, in which she was defendant, that were tried in Annapolis in 1871 and 1872. She was charged with poisoning General William Scott Ketchum, a retired army officer, and with attempting to poison Mr. Eugene Van Ness, at her home, No. 263 Hamilton place, in this city, in June, 1871. The cases attracted national attention at the time.

Investigating a Soldiers' Home. LEAVENWORTH, Kan., May 19.—The muchtalked-of and subsequently delayed inves-tigation in the management of the Soldiers' Home at Fort Leavenworth is about to be made. Geo. Rassuer, department commander of the G. A. R.; A. Clarkson, department com-mander of Nebraska, and W. Henry, post department commander of Kansas, are here, and will be joined to-night by W. L. Cistis, department commander of Illinois. They will begin their examination to-morrow.

Father and Two Children Drowned. OMAHA, Neb., May 19.-A farmer named Tucker, with his two children, a girl and a boy, was rowing on a small lake near Stanton Saturday night, when the boat was overturned, and the three were drowned. The bodies were recovered.
